

The Realization Path of Student Management Function in Ideological and Political Education in Colleges and Universities

Liang Zhu^{a,*}, Lei Wu

Huaian Vocational College of Information Technology, Huaian, Jiangsu, 223003, China

^a 61521965@qq.com

*corresponding author

Keywords: Ideological and Political Education College, Students Education Management

Abstract: The ideological and political curriculum in colleges and universities lies in the education and cultivation of students' view of history. Train students to pay more attention to the basic position, viewpoint and method of Marxism through the education of ideological and political courses. And the establishment of teaching staff, further improve the methods of education can effectively promote the ideological and political development of students. And then help students to use scientific theory to arm their own minds, and then develop into a helpful and contributing talent for national construction.

1. Introduction

In college, the content of ideological and political education is that teachers transmit a correct and normative ideological value system and moral norms to students through the teaching activities of ideological and political courses. In the ideological and political education system, the content of ideological and political education is one of the most basic elements. Further concretize ideological and political education.

For the ideological and political education system, he is different from that of other disciplines. The ideological and political education system is not fixed, it needs to further carry out ideological and political education to students from different angles and different modules. For example, comprehensive education, such as political education, moral education, psychological education and law and discipline education, helps students further improve their ideological and political ability. In the whole ideological and political curriculum, the forerunner of the curriculum in ideological education helps students to establish correct values, outlook on life and so on. And political education is the core of ideological and political curriculum. Therefore, from the perspective of education to view the ideological and political curriculum it contains the world outlook, values, outlook on life, the legal system and moral education. In a comprehensive education, to ensure that students can develop into a correct ideological and political concept of talent.

Figure 1 Discussion on ideological and political courses

2. The Importance of Ideological and Political Education

2.1. Ideological and Political Education Helps Students Develop a Correct Outlook on Life, Values and World Outlook

Education trains talents for the development of the country, and college students are the ones trained by the country. Therefore, in education, the development of college students plays a vital role in the future of the country. Under the long-term one-child policy, only one child in a family causes the child to be spoiled by the parents at home, which leads to the lack of independent survival of the child. In addition, the one-child re-growth process needs to take on more parents hope and pressure, will also lead to children's confusion about life. In this situation, the ideological and political education in colleges and universities can effectively help students to establish a good concept of life, only to strengthen the cultivation of students' mental health. In addition, ideological and political education can also solve the "confusion" of life for students. guide students in ideological and political education for life planning, which includes: career planning, college life planning, etc. Under the ideological and political education, let the students slowly establish the correct outlook on life, values and world outlook.

2.2. Ideological and Political Education Helps to Improve the Ideological and Political Quality of College Students

Our country is a socialist country, the healthy growth of college students has a pivotal role in the socialist development of our country. Therefore, the State Council of the CPC Central Committee pointed out in its Opinions on Further Strengthening and Improving the Ideological and Political Education of College Students: "We should strengthen and improve the ideological and political education of college students, improve their ideological and political quality, and train them as successors to socialism with Chinese characteristics." "Strengthening and improving the ideological and political education of college students is of great and profound historical significance to ensure the prosperity of the cause of socialism with Chinese characteristics. Therefore, we can see that the importance of ideological and political education and the importance of state leaders reflects the importance of ideological and political literacy.

Under the education and training of ideological and political courses, it is the embodiment of the sense of responsibility of social citizens that college students take the initiative to pay attention to the country and the internal affairs and foreign affairs. At the same time, the theory and practice as well as historical experience are truly displayed in front of our eyes, it needs real learning. Therefore, the teaching of ideological and political courses should not be confined to textbooks and classrooms. The ideological and political curriculum should be guided by the teachers' intention to go to the society and help students open their horizons.

2.3. Improving the Ideological and Moral Quality of College Students and Cultivating Their Moral Judgment Ability

In the prosperous society, only with strong moral judgment can we not blindly absorb all kinds of moral judgment and make correct judgment in moral judgment. Nowadays the information network is well developed, all kinds of big data, self-media and so on want the public to reveal all kinds of different information. In the era of big data, the power of all kinds of public opinion is enough to destroy a person. Therefore, it is only in this environment that students can make the most correct judgment by sticking to their own moral ideas without being subjected to reactionary tendencies such as negative news. At the same time, it is teaching students to make decisions by identifying the truth of anything.

2.4. Ideological and Political Education is Conducive to Harmonious Construction of Campus

People often say, "School is also a small society." And this small society is also one of the important components of the big society. In the construction of socialist harmonious society, "school" also played a very important role. Therefore, carrying out ideological and political education courses and strengthening students' ideological and political quality can effectively promote the overall and coordinated development of students. This is a necessary requirement for constructing a harmonious society.

Figure 2 Carrying out ideological and political education in colleges and universities

3. How to Carry Out Ideological and Political Education in Colleges and Universities

3.1. Strengthening Political Education

In the ideological and political education of colleges and universities, Marxism-Leninism, Mao Zedong thought, Deng Xiaoping theory, the important thought of "three represents", the scientific development view and the socialist thought with Chinese characteristics in the new era of Xi Jinping are the essence of ideological and political education. Carrying out the ideological and political education course to the students to carry out the spirit of the Nineteenth National Congress of the Party in depth to train the students as the socialist successor to the new generation of all-round development, and to ensure that the students can develop morally, intellectually, physically and aesthetically, so as to seek truth from facts and strive for the upper reaches.

3.2. Strengthening College Students'moral and Legal Education

The arrival of the global information age represents a variety of data burst into the eyes of students. These data are muddy, the content of ideology and values are different. When college students'willpower is weak and their judgment ability is insufficient, these bad data will bring bad influence to college students, which leads to the deviation of college students'outlook on life and values. Therefore, we should go all out to strengthen the moral and legal consciousness of college students. At the same time, students themselves should strive to improve their moral discrimination, enhance legal awareness, so that in the face of bad temptation still can keep their heart.

3.3. Adhere to the People-Oriented, Student-Oriented Concept of Education

At present, the educational concept of flipping classroom is widely used in primary and secondary schools, among which the educational model is worthy of reference. First of all, the idea of student-oriented education should be used in education. In the course of ideological and political education in colleges and universities, establishing the education system with students as the main body can enable students to better understand the key points and key points in ideological and political control. With the continuous progress of society, the development of socialist market economy and economic globalization have made students form different values and outlook on life. In the process of students'professional ideal and ideological and political education, combining students'characteristics and interests and hobbies to teach students according to their aptitude can effectively enhance students'interest in ideological and political education, and then attract students to actively study ideological and political courses.

Under the traditional education mechanism, teachers will inculcate their own insights and knowledge into the students, and students will also seriously accept the knowledge that teachers teach themselves. However, with the advance of education reform and the change of times, this blind acceptance of knowledge education is gradually abandoned by people. It will deprive students of the ability to think badly. Now, most students have different ideas and ways of thinking. They adhere to their own personality, adhere to their own views; for different things have their own persistence. The changes of the times make the society more tolerant, and the thought and thinking of college students can get the support of the broad social groups. Therefore, in the ideological and political education of college students, we should not only carry out corresponding education to the students, but also listen to the views and opinions of the students, so as to truly understand the students and truly teach them according to their aptitude. Moreover, it is precisely because of this identity and personality that students may be more difficult to accept the teacher's education, criticism, teaching and so on, which makes the whole education work very difficult to carry out. At this time, teachers should pay attention to the relationship between themselves and students, so that they and students are not only teachers and students but also friends. At this time, it is more acceptable to guide students' psychology. In the teaching process of ideological and political courses in colleges and universities, establishing a good teacher-student relationship is of great help to the development of the curriculum, and will also make the ideological education work twice the result with half the effort.

Figure 3 The development of ideological education

4. Conclusion

In the course of ideological and political education in colleges and universities, the teacher's responsibility is to help every college student grow up to be a good young man, and make great contribution to the construction of the motherland. In the ideological and political education system still need to carry on the innovation, enhances the student to the ideological and political curriculum interest then enhances the curriculum teaching quality. In addition, it is also very important for the country to guide college students to grow up. The development of the motherland cannot be separated from the support of talents. With the rapid development of the motherland, China's comprehensive national strength is constantly rising. This is the pride and pride of the Chinese people. And at this time, the urgent need for talent to build a great motherland. Therefore, cultivating college students to establish good values and so on has a great contribution to the motherland.

References

- [1] Shi, Xiangjun., Zhang, Qiong. The characteristics of ideological and behavior of "post-90s" college students and the methods of ideological and political education in colleges and universities. Journal of Chongqing University of Technology (Social Sciences), 2013.
- [2] Guo, Yuanyang. Marx's reform of ideological and political curriculum teaching in universities from the perspective of human essence. Journal of Daqing Normal University, no. 09, 2011.

