Abstract: With the quickening of the reform of logistics in colleges and universities, new challenges have been put forward to the ideological and political work of the traditional higher vocational students. The environmental atmosphere of the student community, the quality of cultural construction and management services have a more and more important impact on the ideological and political education of students. Therefore, to promote the ideological and political work into the community with the construction of student community culture as the carrier is of great practical significance to comprehensively improve the timeliness of students' ideological and political work.

1. The Relationship Between Community Culture Construction and Ideological and Political Education

"Strengthening the construction of campus culture is one of the effective ways to strengthen and improve the ideological and political education of college students," the State Council of the CPC Central Committee said. At the same time, it is also pointed out that "we should attach great importance to the ideological and political education work of new college students' organizations, such as the living community of college students, student apartments, and virtual groups on the Internet, so as to give full play to the enthusiasm and initiative of college students themselves and enhance the educational effect." How to promote the ideological and political education into the community with the construction of community culture of higher vocational students is the problem that this paper wants to discuss.

1.1. Summary of Community Culture Construction for Students In Higher Vocational Colleges

Student community culture is a sub-culture of campus culture, which reflects the campus culture in its own unique way, and its development direction will directly affect the students' ideological situation. Apartment community is the second home for students and an important place for students to rest, socialize, study after class and entertain. According to statistics, on average, more than half of each student's time per day is spent in the student community, and one third of the learning content is carried out in the apartment, so the student apartment, community environment and atmosphere are crucial to the growth of college students.

The student community culture consists of spiritual culture, material culture and behavior culture. Among them, spiritual culture is the core, material culture is the carrier, behavior culture is the expression, and the three levels of student community culture together form an organic whole of mutual penetration and interaction. As a group culture, it plays the role of integration, cohesion, restraint and education in the process of students' growth. Positive student community culture can guide students to establish a correct world outlook, outlook on life, values, can create a positive learning atmosphere, can provide a good environment for the healthy growth of students' body and mind, and can provide favorable conditions for the improvement of students' comprehensive quality.

It is an indisputable fact that students in higher vocational colleges have a certain gap in cultural class achievement and behavior habits compared with general undergraduates. In the face of such reality, the managers of higher vocational colleges should think more about how to do well the ideological and political education of students, how to build a healthy and beneficial community culture of students, standardize and cultivate students' good behavior habits, so as to protect the training of qualified talents.

1.2. The Construction of Student Community Culture is an Effective Carrier of Ideological and Political Education

The community culture construction of higher vocational students carries the task of ideological and political education in educating people. Through the community environment, management system, after-school cultural activities and other ways, with their own unique functions, the community culture and campus culture reflect each other and permeate each other. Such as invisible hand," moisturizing silent "leads students to develop along the healthy direction, and strengthening the construction of community culture has a strong practical significance for comprehensively improving the initiative, pertinence and timeliness of ideological and political education work.

The ideological and political education of higher vocational students dominates the direction of community culture construction

The ideological and political education of students in higher vocational colleges must embody the basic values of our country's social culture, follow the specific requirements of cultivating the concept of talents and the level specifications of all-round development of morality, intelligence, physical beauty, so as to lead the direction of the construction of students' community culture, which is determined by the purpose of running a school and the specific purpose of cultivating people. Therefore, the community culture of higher vocational students must follow the requirements of ideological and political education to carry out and build.

In terms of content, the construction of students' community culture should carry out all kinds of corresponding cultural activities according to the main requirements of ideological and political education work in different periods.

In form, the construction of student community culture should pay attention to innovation, reflect the characteristics of the times, and adapt to the community environment.

In terms of requirements, the construction of student community culture should adhere to the basic concept of student-oriented and harmonious community, and respect the personality of all students.

Therefore, the construction of students' community culture is to internalize the contents and requirements of ideological and political education into students' conscious behavior under the guidance of ideological and political education and in the way of imperceptible influence and influence.

2. The Necessity of Entering the Student Community in the Ideological and Political Education of Higher Vocational Colleges

2.1. Promoting Ideological and Political Work Into the Community is an Inherent Requirement for Strengthening Ideological And Political Work

The student community is an important place for students to form their ideas and good behavior habits and improve their comprehensive quality. Only by strengthening the ideological education in the student community can the purpose of ideological and political education in schools be realized more comprehensively.

2.2. Promote Ideological and Political Work Into the Community and Create a Solid Platform for All-Round Development of Students

Ideological and political education work into the community, stimulate students to carry out self-education, self-management, self-service awareness, and for students in ideological and moral, scientific and cultural, psychological quality, social responsibility and other aspects of comprehensive and harmonious development to provide a solid platform.

2.3. Promoting Ideological And Political Work Into the Community is an Objective Requirement for Improving Students' Community Management Service Level

Only when the ideological and political education is fully integrated into the work of student community management service can it truly embody the basic idea of "student-oriented and harmonious community" and truly realize the seamless connection between student community management service and school daily management service.

3. Measures to Promote Ideological and Political Education into the Community Based on Community Culture Construction of Higher Vocational Students

3.1. Team Building

First, there must be a unified leadership and coordination body. Community culture is an important part of campus culture, and at the same time community is a special position for students' ideological and political work. The construction of community culture is a long-term system engineering, which is not a matter of a few departments, such as student department, league committee, etc. The absence of a dedicated leadership and coordination body will inevitably lead to duplication of effort and half the effort.

Secondly, special attention should be paid to the division of labour and coordination among the following staff:

Teachers are the main driving force to promote social and cultural development; the Ministry of Education's opinion on strengthening the construction of the class teachers of college counselors points out that strengthening the construction of the class teachers of college counselors is an important organizational guarantee and long-term mechanism for strengthening and improving ideological and political work, and is an important organizational guarantee and long-term mechanism for the full implementation of the Party's educational policy and the practical implementation of the tasks of ideological and political educators.

Relying on all kinds of teachers, taking social culture as the carrier, turning ideological and political education into student housing is like letting students "at home ". Students will have a warmth to increase the impact of education, at the same time, we should constantly improve the level of professional management of students' society to teachers, standardize education with scientific and reasonable systems, and teachers participating in social management should not only be managers, but also be good teachers and good friends of students.

Student cadre team: contemporary students have active thinking, strong sense of innovation, strong sense of self-development, we should attach importance to the role of student autonomy, self-cultivation, self-service, student society is a place for students to live, but also a place for students to self-governance; education and service, in which students participate in social management is an important force that students can not ignore in ideological and political education. Who is willing to serve their classmates and poor families, act as a carrier of student autonomy and self-discipline, management committee, participation in community and housing management, supervision and education, can cultivate students' self-discipline spirit, self-confidence, but also can play an unexpected effect.

3.2. Carefully Organize Cultural Activities of Various Characteristics of Students;

Through cultural festivals, art festivals, New Year's Day festivals, science and technology festivals and other cultural activities, the integration of ideological and political education into the student group is the most effective and popular form of students. These activities include not only sports and entertainment, but also academic activities. However, in any case, we should pay attention to this theme, reflect the universal values of society, reflect the times, not the moment. The richness and openness of cultural and academic activities have a subtle influence on the growth and cultivation of students; more excellent teachers should be encouraged to carry out academic lectures, interactive forums and other activities to create more opportunities for teachers and students to communicate, stimulate students' aspirations in knowledge and exploration, develop students' creativity, and deepen the cultural connotation of student associations.

3.3. Deepening the Connotation of Ideological and Political Education by Taking Dormitories and Apartments as Units and Combining the Activities of Party Groups

Students often talk about current affairs, policies and news in dormitories and apartments, and teachers should take this as an opportunity to actively carry out various party group activities, such as consciously letting group and student party members play the backbone role of dormitory and floor directors, and organizing and implementing various activities. Political study and discussion in dormitory and apartment, this kind of study and discussion scope is small, the effect is good, the time is flexible, also should listen to the opinions of other members of the same dormitory, put understanding and education in the more grass-roots position of dormitory, therefore, we should take effective methods and targeted measures to enrich the educational space that student apartment is easy to ignore, and truly reflect the position and role of student social management in ideological and political education.

3.4. Give Full Play to the Role of Counsellors and Social Counsellors

Counselors are an important force in students' community culture and ideological and political education. Nowadays, most students are only children. The care of parents and relatives makes many of them show the characteristics of self-centeredness and poor self-care ability. For example, many students often quarrel with their classmates because of small things and different ways of life, and then they are very uncomfortable, which affects their emotions and learning. Some students suppress their feelings to consider others, but their inner emotions are unbalanced and their psychology is distorted over time. All of this shows a lack of personal skills, and when there is a conflict, they don't know how to communicate properly. To solve the problem. In this case, if there are counselors and psychological counselors to participate in the collective tutoring of student members, this will help to promote personal growth and learn to cooperate with others.
