1. Introduction

With the further development and progress of Marxist theory, more and more scholars and universities pay attention to the study of the popularization of Marxism in the industry. At the same time, it has become a hot issue in academic research. The main research hotspots of the popularization of Marxist theory focus on three levels, namely, the theoretical level, the practical level and the responsibility and mission level of the corresponding philosophical and theoretical workers [4-6]. However, there is a lack of in-depth discussion on the connotation of the popularization of Marxism in the numerous research contents of the popularization of Marxism. Therefore, in order to meet the requirements and upsurge of the times, it is very important and meaningful to study and implement the connotation of the popularization of Marxism as a systematic and comprehensive project. At the same time, it is also very important and meaningful to endow the popularization of Marxism with distinct national, contemporary and practical characteristics [7-9].

In order to deeply explore the real meaning of the popularization of contemporary Chinese Marxism, a large number of scholars and research institutions have carried out analysis and Research on it. Chinese scholars [10-14] defined and analyzed the connotation of the popularization of Marxism from different perspectives, and published a large number of research books to interpret the connotation of the popularization of Marxism. These books and contents, to a certain extent, provided rich contents for the popularization of contemporary Marxism. On the occasion of the Seventeenth National Congress of the CPC, the exploration and practice of the popularization of Marxism in contemporary China has been closer. A large number of Chinese scholars and institutions of higher learning [15] have put forward and studied the path of realizing the popularization of Marxism in contemporary China, and discussed the common points and phases of the corresponding theories and ideas. At the same time, the corresponding differences are pointed out. Generally speaking, the research on the essence of the popularization of Marxism in contemporary China is relatively poor, and its corresponding content is relatively limited to the characteristics of the current era.

Based on the above research status and analysis, this paper will discuss and analyze the connotation and value of contemporary Marxist popularization, mainly analyzing two aspects: the exploration and practice of contemporary Chinese Marxist popularization, the countermeasure thinking and path choice of promoting contemporary Chinese Marxist popularization. Figure 3 Logical relation map of contemporary Chinese Marxist popularization connotation

1) The connotation of the popularization of contemporary Chinese Marxism is a scientific analysis and study of its social subject.

We should divide people scientifically according to different social strata and adjust relevant methods in time for people with different interests and needs, so as to promote the process of popularization of contemporary Marxism more effectively. In the process of promoting the Sinicization of contemporary Marxism, we need to integrate the reality of the people, the actual situation of China and the times, promote the innovation and development of theory and practice, and realize the benign interaction between theory and practice.

2) To scientifically interpret and annotate the theory of "inter-subjectivity", thus bringing new space for the study of the popularization of Marxism.

At this level, it emphasizes the elimination of the opposition between subject and object and the new idea of subject-centered theory. It also emphasizes the need for mutual understanding, dialogue and equal relationship between subjects in language and action, so as to realize the real freedom of subjects. Therefore, in the contemporary thinking of the popularization of Marxism in China, we need to combine the specific situation of China, based on the people's life and social practice, so that the masses can truly grasp the contemporary theory of Marxism in China, and realize the ideal of the popularization of Marxism in contemporary China.
