Abstract: In the future, the key to how to cultivate high-quality talents lies in the teaching system and teaching mode, so the university education in China has a long way to go. College students in the new era should hold higher demands on themselves, so as to resolve all kinds of learning obstacles and ideological troubles, and constantly realize the great progress and effective promotion of individuals in the process of learning. The ideological and political teachers of the university should carry out the teaching mode of "eight unified" all the time, cultivate a group of students with thought, ability, responsibility, thinking and innovation ability, and make them contribute to the development of China.

1. An Analysis of the Problems of Current College Students

China's late famous scientist, Mr. Qian Xuesen, has been worried many times about the inability of Chinese universities to produce first-class talent, so he has held talks and consultations with China's head of state on this issue on many occasions. In fact, the problem has not been completely solved now[1]A real person is not only an individual with extraordinary learning ability and working ability, but more importantly the person's ideological, creative, critical and constructive ability has reached a very high level. The current Chinese universities should adhere to the "eight unified" teaching model, so as to cultivate a large number of high-quality talents.

It is very important that a country adhere to the correct concept of development and take a longer view so that it can move steadily along the right direction. However, there are many problems and difficulties in the current college education, which are reflected in the college students, many college students have not been able to cherish their hard-won college time, abandoned the most precious youth of the university for four years, left their endless regret and pain, at the same time, even those with excellent learning ability have their own troubles and doubts, they do not know how to deal with the interaction between themselves and this era. The desire to be able to create and invent, and at the same time to be confined to their own and external conditions, the desire to serve the country and dedication, but also to become a free individual. In fact, as early as the early 19th century, Goethe put forward the Faust puzzle through his masterpiece Faust, which is now nearly two hundred years old. The Faust puzzle, which puzzles mankind, still does not have a relatively complete solution. In other words, the 21st century college students are still trapped in the contradiction between self-interest and lofty ideas. Many college students in the university study period, the thought has also suffered a lot of interference and tie, how can make the self-focus, meticulous study knowledge, this is a very important, very serious problem, but also worthy of all college teachers to seriously analyze and sum up the problem, if can find a reasonable way, will certainly enable college students to have a more healthy pace of life and learning attitude, will inevitably save students a lot of time, energy, get rid of a lot of negative emotions and negative thoughts, a worthy of youth, this is a serious analysis of college teachers. On the current ideological situation analysis of college students, there are still many deficiencies and deficiencies in the work of teachers, see Table 1:

Table 1 Questionnaire

What is your biggest problem at this stage?
Can not find the motivation and meaning of learning	49.12%
It is difficult to define the direction and choice of life	34.56%
Being reluctant to learn	14.71%
Lack of adequate freedom in schools	1.61%

2. Analysis on the Significance of "Eight Unity"

Chinese college students need to get a strong voice to lead, help, guide and sublimate, so that they can break the external shackles of thought and behavior, more profound understanding of what to do, what not to do, and more profound understanding of what kind of person they should be, which is of great significance to any college student. But how to construct such a powerful voice and ideological program is worthy of all college educators to seriously explore and sum up, only can help students to remove external ideological barriers, students can focus on learning, heart to improve themselves, can solve confusion, become a better student. On March 18, 2019, Xi Jinping, general secretary of the CPC Central Committee, president of the state and chairman of the Central military Commission, delivered an important speech at a symposium on the teaching of ideological and political theory courses in schools in Beijing. Xi Jinping pointed out that promoting the reform and innovation of ideological and political theory courses requires constantly strengthening the ideological, theoretical, affinity and pertinence of ideological and political courses. The so-called "eight unity" is: the unity of value and knowledge; the unity of constructive and critical; the unity of theory and practice; the unity of unity and diversity; the unity of dominance and subjectivity; the unity of indoctrination and inspiration; and the unity of explicit and implicit education.

In fact, the introduction of the eight unified teaching guidelines, that is, to make the vast number of college students understand how to become a person, how to work hard, how to forge ahead, how to improve themselves, while maintaining an independent academic personality and ideological soul, better for the collective, for society, for the country, so as to become a high-quality talent required by the country, which is of great significance to the country and individuals, but also worthy of all college students to seriously understand. Students should develop themselves through hardship and hardship. Today's college students, many people think that they have become the "zero surplus" of society, as shown in Table 2:

Table 2 Questionnaire

Do you think you are a social surplus?
Yes	90.83%
No	9.17%

If many college students in the process of learning with a strong isolated, forgotten, abandoned mode of thinking, will inevitably make many students' learning ability, learning mentality, learning personality imbalance, and many students give up their own responsibility, responsibility and ambition, so as to become a gradually abandoned person, this is extremely sad. College education belongs to higher education, the purpose of which is to send a large number of aspiring young people with ideals, beliefs, blood, morality and sense of responsibility to the country and society. However, in order to achieve this goal, teachers should carry out corresponding teaching work, try their best to help students get rid of the wrong ideas, so that students can grasp the great time and time, can work hard, do something, but also have the world, ambition; can both independent personality and pursuit, but also actively integrate into the collective, become a better youth.[2].

3. How to Apply "Eight Unity" to the Teaching of Ideological and Political Teachers

The current ideological and political teachers can not become a prison, paper talk, need to combine the development and needs of the times, but also can find students' learning characteristics and learning ability, do their best to help students, so that they can become the needs of the country, but also find the strength of the individual, not afraid of clouds to cover their eyes, brave to climb the highest level. Teachers of ideological and political courses need to use more friendly and expressive language to help students, so that students can learn the relevant knowledge of ideological and political courses, while finding realistic action patterns and channels of action, so that students will be able to adapt to the surrounding environment more, but also can become a collective absorbed person. At present, many college students flaunt the banner of freedom and independence, but in the process of cultivating anti-social and anti-collective personality, regard their own incompatibility as the high-clean soul, but also mistake their own personality defects as a rare talent, this is an urgent need to adjust and change the mode of thinking, college ideological and political teachers can not turn a blind eye to this. Nowadays, few college students think that they are an antisocial personality, see Table 3, but from the realistic level of analysis and measurement, there are indeed a lot of "self-made" factors in the inner soul of students, which restrict the development space of students, so they should be abandoned and removed by teachers.

Table 3 Questionnaire

Do you think you have antisocial personality?
Existence	9.18%
No	90.82%

Teachers should encourage all college students to become a practical and service talent, can learn their knowledge and skills, find a realistic export, so that self-social responsibility and professional skills combined, so that the future of students will inevitably be better, students can also become a more responsible and responsible individual. Only in this way can China's tomorrow be better and Chinese education can advance courageously in the right direction. There is no doubt that the formation of students' sense of social responsibility, the establishment of values, the shaping of behavior patterns, is definitely not an overnight thing, teachers should in the long teaching process, hard to point out the students, so that students open their hearts, resolve the block of self-mind, so that students can transcend the limitations of self, and make great progress and progress.

4. Concluding Remarks

College students in the four years of college is extremely important, but also very valuable, so all the educatees must not waste their own time, but should sharpen themselves, courageously forward, to become a good student not afraid of the road ahead, in the process of learning, to achieve a great breakthrough in self-learning ability. Teachers need to combine the advanced teaching concept of "eight unified ", so that students can combine knowledge and behavior to become an individual accepted by society and face maturity in the course of individual growth[3].
