Abstract: The core values of socialism are an important part of strengthening and improving the ideological and political work of college students. Promoting the integration of socialist core values into ideological and political work is an important means of building socialist ideology. Based on this background, this paper analyzes the significance of cultivating socialist core values and the background of the times. Combined with General Secretary Xi Jinping's series of expositions on ideological and political work, this paper puts forward the strategy of carrying out ideological and political work in colleges and universities.

1. Introduction

Young people are the future of the motherland, and college students are the main carrier of the state's construction ideology. The Party Central Committee with General Secretary Xi Jinping as the core attaches great importance to the ideological and political work of young people. Xi Jinping's new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics provides a theoretical basis and a guide for action in the ideological and political education of colleges and universities. The core values of socialism are divided into three levels: state, society and individual, which define what we should do and how to do it. Cultivating and practicing the core values of socialism is an important part of the ideological and political work of colleges and universities. This process is a process of entering the eyes, entering the brain, entering the heart, and entering the line. Therefore, it is a very important proposition to integrate the socialist core values into the learning and life aspects of college students through the form of ideological and political education.

2. The Importance of Integrating Socialist Core Values into the Work of Ideological and Political Education in Colleges and Universities

At present, the international and domestic situation is complicated, and various ideological trends are intertwined with the thinking of the young people in China. It is an arduous task to build the ideological foundation of college students. Actively cultivating and practicing the core values of socialism is the basic project to promote the construction of the socialist core value system. In the great practice of building a well-off society in an all-round way and upholding and developing socialism with Chinese characteristics, it is of great and far-reaching significance to actively cultivate and practice the core values of socialism. Actively cultivating and practicing the core values of socialism is an urgent need to safeguard China's ideological security, and is an objective requirement for effectively responding to the Western hostile forces' implementation of our value penetration strategy. At present, China has entered a critical period of building a well-off society in an all-round way and is still in an important strategic opportunity period that can make a difference. Actively cultivating and practicing the core values of socialism is also an inherent requirement for realizing the goal of building a well-off society in an all-round way and persisting in and developing socialism with Chinese characteristics.

Most of the contemporary young students are 90 years old. Facing the complex and ever-changing social environment, they are easily lost in front of various unexpected challenges. This requires universities to implement the main responsibility, through publicity and education means, to guide them to establish a correct world view, personal outlook and values, to cultivate their ability to form a good psychological quality and independent thinking, distinguish between right and wrong. Schools, society and other subjects must innovate ways and methods, pay attention to actual results, and vigorously carry forward and practice the core values of socialism throughout the national education. Gradually let students resonate and recognize the core values of socialism, and gradually let students The core values of socialism are understood and convinced, thus transforming their inner beliefs and conscious behaviors, providing strong support and guarantee for the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation and the realization of the Chinese dream.

3. The status quo of ideological and political education in colleges and universities in China

The youth group is in the period of value formation, it is easy to shake in the face of wrong thinking, and even lead to problems such as unsatisfactory ideals and beliefs, lost life and so on. In contrast to our current ideological and political education work, because of the uneven teaching methods, propaganda methods, and faculty strength, there are still many problems in the specific ideological and political education work.

College students are not enthusiastic about the study of ideological and political theory courses. College students are the main force of the school and the main practitioner of the core values of socialism. Although in recent years, the political acumen and moral cultivation of college students have been greatly improved. However, there are still quite a few college students who only know the content of socialist values, and have not truly integrated into their studies and life, which has seriously affected the effectiveness of socialist core values throughout the ideological and educational work.

The teaching form of ideological and political courses in colleges and universities is relatively simple. Ideological and political teaching must abide by the principle of people-oriented, but in the teaching process of ideological and political theory courses, most of the high-level teachers use the teaching methods taught, and the role of students as the main body of the classroom has not been played and recognized. Some teachings have seriously suppressed the enthusiasm of students' classroom learning and affected the effectiveness of ideological and political theory courses.

The teaching method is not flexible enough. In the process of teaching, ideological and political teachers mainly adopt the teaching methods of teacher lectures and students' listening. They are often simply indoctrinated by theory, ignoring the personality characteristics of students and the law of physical and mental development. In most cases, teachers rely too much on multimedia teaching to turn teaching courseware into an "electronic board." Some teachers lack language expression and cannot mobilize the enthusiasm of students to learn. This also makes most students not interested in ideological and political study, and even has the psychology of resisting ideological and political education.

4. Strategies for integrating socialist core values into ideological and political work

Pay attention to the objective impact of the environment on the ideological and political status of college students. College students' ideological and political concepts and behavioral choices are constantly affected by the environment and other aspects. The study found that the higher the recognition of core values, the higher the evaluation of the degree of achievement of values at the national and social levels, and the more accurately the impact of his culture. To cultivate and practice the core values of socialism, we must optimize the social reality environment and ideological and cultural environment of college students' ideological and political education. On the basis of accurately grasping various environmental impacts, we should help improve the study and living conditions of college students, continuously strengthen positive publicity, strengthen mainstream opinion and publicity, and play the leading role of core values in environmental construction.

Strengthen the value recognition of ideological and political education in colleges and universities. Value education is an effective way for colleges and universities to strengthen the education of college students' core values. The past ideological and political education in our country mainly emphasizes political value, social value, management value, etc., while the core values education of college students should develop more cultural values, ecological values, aesthetic values and individual values. This requires higher education institutions to select more valuable content in the curriculum content setting, so that educational activities become value education activities, and become an activity that promotes college students to enhance value pursuit and value realization. It is necessary to help students expand the educational approach to the core values of socialism. Guide students to apply the knowledge learned in ideological and political education to real life, and actively mobilize students' self-learning attitude to deepen their sense of identity with core values.

Create a good environment for ideological and political education in colleges and universities. Creating a good environment for ideological and political education in colleges and universities helps to get rid of the influence of utilitarianism, individualism and hedonism, and cultivate students' correct values. It is necessary to actively create a beautiful campus, build a green campus, pay attention to hidden education, set up special funds for campus greening in colleges and universities, organize students to participate in campus green space planning activities, etc., so that students can realize the "harmony" concept of socialist core values in continuous participation. . It is necessary to optimize the architectural characteristics of the university, actively create a civilized landscape, let the campus decoration reflect the pursuit of core values, and promote the core values of the deep-minded students. Guided by the core values of socialism, we should combine the school system with ideological and political education, formulate practical practices related to ideological and political education, and develop key class-related class meetings, practical activities, and volunteer services to help students establish correct values.

Develop new programs across core values education. Whether it is direct or indirect value education, it is inseparable from the most basic factors in the development of school-based curriculum for socialist core values. These factors constitute the program of socialist core values education and provide a new reference model for schools. School-based curriculum that develops socialist core values must establish the correct moral values of students and consider how to meet the moral development needs of students. Not only can you use textbooks and teaching materials, but you can also use course standards and information packages. Teachers can select and produce pictures and micro videos according to their own teaching style and actual needs. Teachers can appropriately increase and decrease the class time according to the teaching needs, and use the teaching effect to determine the range of class adjustment.

To innovate the form of teaching organization. The diversity and richness of teaching forms will affect the development and practice of core values. It is necessary to effectively enhance the teaching effect of socialist core values through interactive teaching, contextualized experiences, and life-style discussions. We should pay attention to establishing a problem-oriented interactive teaching relationship, cultivate students' reflective thinking, establish a subjective teaching concept with context as a link, enhance students' thinking and action, and establish socialist core values as the principle. The life-oriented teaching process helps students to establish a good outlook on life, consciously dig out the value education resources in the subject during the lesson preparation, integrate the lectures, and promote the values education according to the characteristics of the subjects.

5. Conclusion

The task of ideological and political education in colleges and universities is arduous. We must adhere to the guidance of Xi Jinping's new era of socialism with Chinese characteristics, and strengthen the ideological and moral level of college students by strengthening the education of ideals and beliefs, red education, and advanced cultural education. We must regard "practicality" as the basic requirement for cultivating and practicing the core values of socialism, and avoiding the line from theory to theory and from text to text. It is necessary to thoroughly summarize the experiences and lessons of cultivating and practicing social core values in ancient and modern China and foreign countries, refining the laws governing and practicing socialist core values, and studying the needs, acceptance methods, and behavioral characteristics of college students in the process of cultivating and practicing socialist core values.
