But overall, the development of "new retail" has just started, and the theoretical research is still in the initial stage. In general, "new retail" attracts high social attention, but high-level research results are still in short supply. From the perspective of research content, it mainly focuses on the interpretation of the characteristics of concept connotation, analysis of the causes of development, development path and development trend. At present, the theoretical research and practical development direction of "new retail" is gradually clear. In the future, the development trend of practice should be further studied in combination with theory and practice, with emphasis on the in-depth integration of online and offline research directions, so as to provide support for better guiding the development of "new retail".

1. Introduction

In October 2016, Jack Ma, chairman of Alibaba Group, proposed the concept of "new retail" at the Hangzhou Yunqi conference, believing that the era of pure e-commerce has passed and the next decade will be the era of "new retail". The year 2017 was defined by Alibaba as the first year of "new retail" in China. Alibaba and other core enterprises actively arranged "new retail", and new species of retail emerged one after another. Hema fresh and super species have become a phenomenon of great concern. The average value of the index from January to December 2018 is 2128. At the two peak points G (November 05, 2018 solstice 11) and H (January 7, 2019 solstice 13), the index average was 5814 and 6549, respectively.
